

Diversity and Productivity

OUR OBJECTIVES

1. Increase productivity in the UK

by enabling firms to create more diverse workforces maximise the productive potential of diverse teams

2. Increase education and career opportunities for individuals from under-represented backgrounds by providing insight into the ways education policy and practice can widen access to productive education pathways, and broadening firms' talent pool

3. Work with policymakers, practitioners and businesses to ensure our findings address their key questions and concerns, and translate into tangible improvements in practice

4. Produce high quality research published in top academic journals, that adds clear value to the academic community, the public and business policymakers

5. Build the capacity of early career researchers to ensure they have the passion, methodological expertise and engagement skills necessary to forge research careers focused in this area.
